

Concepts and theories related to leadership

Meaning of "leader"

Suthep Pongsriwat (2005) stated that leaders are assigned people. which may be by election or appointment and accepted by members to have influence and role over the group Able to motivate, induce or lead members of the group to join forces to carry out various missions. of the group successfully

Concepts and theories related to leadership

- Netpanna Yaviraj (2007) defined a leader as a person who is accepted and praised by others. which has been appointed or has been regarded as the head of various operations By relying on people who lead and have leadership This will enable the organization to achieve its objectives and lead the agency to progress.